GORINI

Things are never the same. Time transforms and marks them.A river of events leaves some scarfs, more or less deep, on people, things and places.However, beauty never disappears completely and is visible to the eyes of who knows its rules. We respect time and know that nothing lasts forever, but despite this, we do everything to create pieces of furniture that continue to be in touch with our tradition. Our experience is ancient and we are very familiar with our work. We like creating with our hands.We create products that look at the future respecting the noble tradition of Italian handicraft.
